

The Learning Exchange

Living for Jesus In a Post-Christian World:
Tewantin - 4.00-5.15pm - Wednesday 30 May and 6 June

Christian Ethics: Kevin Simington
Subjective morality (relativism) due to the loss of belief in absolutes with reference to several current examples; gender fluidity, homosexuality, same-sex marriage, pre-marital sex and adultery. How can we interact with such relativism and respond with a Christian point of view? How do we engage with a culture that is increasingly resistant to the concept of absolute morality?

Christian Beliefs: Kevin Simington
Pluralism (the concept that all beliefs are equally valid and that no-one has the right to insist on an exclusive monopoly of the truth). How do we understand, interact and respond to this direct conflict with the exclusive claims of Jesus? We explore Biblical guidelines as we seek to proclaim our faith unashamedly and engage with an increasingly secular world.

Sunday Afternoons in the Learning Exchange:
Sunshine Beach - 3pm-4.30pm
Sundays, 10, 17, 24 June and 1 July

The Why and How of Small Group Leadership:
Lead by Chris Gilbert, this workshop explores the vision and skills needed for leaders to build Christian community in our Connect groups. Those interested in becoming a leader or who are already leading will both gain valuable training for enhancing group life.

Christian Imagination:
Lead by Jo Kadlecek, this workshop explores how the Christian faith has informed various examples of art, literature and the imagination. Participants will read a few short essays for discussion. Anyone interested in the creative process from a Christian perspective is welcome.

The Learning Exchange

Living for Jesus In a Post-Christian World:
Tewantin - 4.00-5.15pm - Wednesday 30 May and 6 June

Christian Ethics: Kevin Simington
Subjective morality (relativism) due to the loss of belief in absolutes with reference to several current examples; gender fluidity, homosexuality, same-sex marriage, pre-marital sex and adultery. How can we interact with such relativism and respond with a Christian point of view? How do we engage with a culture that is increasingly resistant to the concept of absolute morality?

Christian Beliefs: Kevin Simington
Pluralism (the concept that all beliefs are equally valid and that no-one has the right to insist on an exclusive monopoly of the truth). How do we understand, interact and respond to this direct conflict with the exclusive claims of Jesus? We explore Biblical guidelines as we seek to proclaim our faith unashamedly and engage with an increasingly secular world.

Sunday Afternoons in the Learning Exchange:
Sunshine Beach - 3pm-4.30pm
Sundays, 10, 17, 24 June and 1 July

The Why and How of Small Group Leadership:
Lead by Chris Gilbert, this workshop explores the vision and skills needed for leaders to build Christian community in our Connect groups. Those interested in becoming a leader or who are already leading will both gain valuable training for enhancing group life.

Christian Imagination:
Lead by Jo Kadlecek, this workshop explores how the Christian faith has informed various examples of art, literature and the imagination. Participants will read a few short essays for discussion. Anyone interested in the creative process from a Christian perspective is welcome.

